WILL ANNEX HAWAII.

The Treaty Signed and Sent to the United States Senate This Afternoon.

LIKE THE TREATY OF 1893.

Which was Presented by President Harrison and Withdrawn by President Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, June 16. —(Special)—The Hawaiian commissioners today signed the treaty and submitted it to the senate for the annexation of Hawaii to the United States. This treaty follows the line of the treaty negotiated by Secretary of State John W. Foster, in 1893, and sent to the Senate by President Harrison, and withdrawn by President Cleveland. There were many puzzling questions to meet in such a treaty. One of the most serious was as to the form of government to be provided for Hawaii as a part of the United States. There was objection to organizing Hawaii as a territory which should develop into a state.

The treaty negotiated by Secretary Foster provided that, "until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing government and laws of the Hawaiian Islands are hereby continued, subject to the paramount authority of the United States. The president, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint a commissioner to reside in said islands, who shall have the power to veto any act of said government, and an act disapproved by him shall thereupon be void and of no effect unless approved by the President. Congress shall within one year from the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty enact the necessary legislation to extend to the Hawaiian Islands the laws of the United States respecting duties upon imports, the internal revenue, commerce, and navigation, but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commercial relations of the Hawaiian Islands, both with the United States and foreign countries, shall continue as regards the commerce of said islands with the rest of the United States and with foreign countries, but this shall not be construed as giving to said islands the power to enter into any new stipulation or agreement whatsoever, or to have diplomatic intercourse with any foreign government."

BIKE AND BALL.

Flattering Prospect for a Park on the Marsh.

St. Joseph has joined Benton Harbor in effort to secure a ball park and bicycle track midway between the two cities.

The matter is now well under way and there is little or no doubt but that the scheme will succeed. Those interested in the project are organizing for business this afternoon. Every cyclist in the two cities will be called upon to donate a mite toward the proposed wheel track.

SOMETHING IN THE WIND.

Members of the Alger Guards Hurry Off to Chicago.

The Alger Guards received a mysterious telegram and at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, the following members of the company will hurry over to Chicago: Captain F. P. Graves, W. C. Cantrell, Dr. C. N. Sowers, H. B. Volheim and J. H. Pound.

The state encampment comes early in August and the boys realize that if they are mustered in by that time it will require hustling.

A BAND CONCERT.

Frazell's Military Band Will Appear this Evening.

Frazell's military band will give an open air concert this evening on Pipestone street. The committee in charge of the solicitation of funds has been meeting with good success and it looks as though enough money could be raised to insure a concert once a week during the summer.

The band is in need of uniforms and new instruments and the money thus raised will put the band in excellent condition. Following is the program for this evening:

1. March—Triennial.
2. Song and dance—"Sweet Ellen."
3. Overture—Gems of Stephens Foster.
4. Waltzes—"Visions of Paradise."
5. Harp Solo—"Honey Bunches."
6. Overture—"Morning, Noon and Night."
7. "Coontown Capers," Cake Walk.

BILLS TOO HIGH.

Supervisor Baldwin Kicked on the Sheriff's Bills this Morning.

Supervisor Baldwin of the committee on sheriff, justice and constable claims protested against the sheriff's bills this morning by saying that a new schedule of prices should be made by the board, that the same schedule which had existed for years was now in vogue and that times had changed and he believed that some action should be taken in the matter. Sheriff Ferguson came before the board and explained his bills in a straight forward manner at the same time adding that the pay was none too great according to the work required.

Supervisor Keith then arose and explained to the board the sheriff's duties and the pay he received and he was in favor of allowing the sheriff the same rate as usual. This was the sentiment of almost the entire board.

It is a fact that since the removal of the county seat from Berrien Springs the sheriff's bills have been about $2,000 a year less. This is explained by the fact that the prosecuting attorney residing here and the numerous railroads saves the sheriff many long rides in which he was allowed 10 cents a mile and $3.00 a day for livery rigs.

The duties of the sheriff are many and he does not know what time in the night he will be called to quell a riot, capture a murderer or detect a robber.

A SMOOTH ARTICLE.

Such is Roland Morrill, President of the Twin City Telephone Company.

GOT THE COURT HOUSE PHONES

While the Bell People Waited for An Audience Morrill Landed the Contract.

Roland Morrill, president of the Twin City telephone company, did a smooth piece of business this forenoon and as a result the county of Berrien will use the Twin City telephone for the coming year.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Morrill appeared before the board of supervisors and explained the advantages of the new company. His speech resulted in prompt action by the board and a resolution was passed that the county rent four of the new telephones for its business.

This morning Manager Badour and the Detroit representative of the Bell company visited the court house and interviewed several supervisors asking them to reconsider their telephone action and offering the Bell phones at $10 per year, a reduction of $8 on each phone from the price charged last year. The Bell people were waiting to get an audience with the telephone committee and while they were waiting patiently rehearsing their arguments Mr. Morrill slipped into the committee room and had his contract signed.

It was a notable victory for the local company as the line which has the court offices on its constituency will be the line that subscribers will want in their homes and business places.

Wire is on the ground and poles are on the way here for extending the local lines in different directions. The local company will furnish a complete service.

Children's Stories.

In looking over some stories written and sent by children to the young people's department of a paper some curious points were noticed. Part of the stories were wildly imaginative. The heroes of them went through experiences that out-Gullivered Gulliver. But after all their adventures the manikins always came home safely, laden with glory and trophies, to relate their valorous deeds and wonderful experiences to admiring hearers.

The child story teller loves a satisfactory ending. He has no patience for the ill contrived methods which bring the hero through one experience safely only to plunge him into another and leave him there to get out as best he may. The princes and the knight must marry and live happily ever after, enjoying the happiness attending such glorious actions before the story ends. Jack must finish all his giants and get home to supper before we leave him.

In the more humble tales of everyday life a strong point is the little author's sincere belief in the absolute working of a righteous law. The good boy invariably comes out triumphant and is rewarded with kisses and cakes. The bad boy is as surely brought to confusion. The career of the wicked youth who defies authority will not learn his lessons, quarrels with smaller boys or takes his father's gun without leave, is out short by an opportune policeman, by the paternal switch or perhaps by a fall out of the boat or, again, by the measles. Somehow the childish author shows that, in his opinion, the law should be satisfied and the wrongdoer should suffer.

It is quite possible that these little writers have behaved badly or missed lessons occasionally themselves, but the artless confessions of their moral tales convince us that they do not do it without pricks of conscience. In the depths of their naughty little hearts they are quite sure that they deserved the fate which they so ingenuously deal out to the doughty heroes of their stories.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Influence That is to Make Debs' Scheme a Success.

GIVE THE WOMAN THE BALLOT.

And Generally Make Things Social and Political Level--Launching of the Co-operative Commonwealth Begun--Model of the Colonies is a Style of Socialism Without Any Religion in It--A Specimen Town "on the Heights."

Chicago, June 16.—Eugene V. Debs was cheered to the echo as he stepped on the platform in Handel hall yesterday. W. E. Burns called the meeting to order and introduced Andrew Adair, of the Typographical union, as chairman. On the platform were a number of other labor leaders of note, as well as Mrs. Corinne Brown, Mrs. Cora Biddleston, Mrs. Kate Kavanaugh, Mrs. Bessie Wolf and other women who have been prominent in the causes of labor and free silver. In substance Debs said: "The wage system is essentially slavery. By it men are driven to suicide, crime, degradation, starvation and all other ills which afflict the race of men. Millions are suffering. Something must be done. The time is ripe. Confidence seems to have taken wings and flown away." Debs then proceeded to unfold his plan of socialistic colonization. Andrew Adair spoke briefly. "The money given in charity," he said, "would, if applied in this cause, furnish employment to twice the number." This was the beginning of the great socialistic movement headed by Debs and others.

Great Is the Omnipresent Bike.

The next speaker was Professor Frank Parsons, and he said that the ally of socialism is the bicycle. It is the bicycle, he said, that socialists expect to open the eyes of the people to their light. The wheel is the reforming influence. "In the first place," said Professor Parsons, "the bicycle gives us good roads. It gives us a healthy, jolly, justice-loving people. It gives us a democracy, for on the road the millionaire is no better than the tramp. The man with the best pair of calves is the autocrat. The bicycle will give woman the ballot. It will help us greatly in our reform." This was the most unique argument advanced at the meeting at which sprung into being the new propaganda which Eugene V. Debs, Professor Parsons, Myron W. Reed, Edward Bellamy and others hope will convert this country from a republic into a socialistic commune.

Some Criticism and Revilement.

The American Railway Union invited the world to join with it, and enough of the world arrived to pack Handel hall. The outline of the new scheme was unfolded and it received an enthusiastic reception. Debs, Professor Parsons and Andrew Adair were the speakers. The church was criticised. The wage system and monopolies were denounced. Judge Grosscup was reviled, and the name of Charles T. Yerkes was hissed as a criminal. There now exists no doubt that the A. R. U. and its coadjutors will work together to carry the socialistic colonization plan to a successful issue. The sentiment of the meeting was unanimous. The Brotherhood of Co-Operative Commonwealth is ready to unite with the American Railway Union, and Professor R. M. Johnson, of the "Knights of Old Glory," a new secret organization, tendered its co-operation.

MODEL OF THE FIRST COLONY.

Socialistic Town in Tennessee That is Unique of Its Kind.

"Our first colony will be modeled in most details after the town of Ruskin, Tenn., said Debs. "The principal difference will be that we will charge no fee for admission to the colony, while Ruskin does." The system of this unique little town was explained by A. S. Edwards, editor of The Coming Nation, and one of the most prominent citizens of the socialistic colony. "Ours is the only socialistic town ever founded," said he, "which was not based on religion. Ruskin works on the principles of socialism, pure and simple. It is located in the mountains of Tennessee, 1,500 feet above the sea level. There 200 people are working in harmony, and showing that the principles of socialism are practical.

"In the main we follow the ideas of Edward Bellamy, as expressed in 'Looking Backward.' But many of his details were impracticable, and we follow our own way. We have about twenty trades represented there, but the principle industry is the printing office. From this is issued The Coming Nation, which is the principal organ of socialism outside of Germany. We also get out a book or so a month—all on the subject of socialism. Every man, woman and child contributes his labor to the community, and in return his wants are provided for. When we take in a member, he agrees to work to the best of his ability at whatever he may be set to do. In return, we agree to furnish him with food, clothes, a house and lot and all the necessities of life.

"The wages are paid in labor checks, the unit being an hour's work. These checks are good at the general store or elsewhere for anything which is to be bought. The price paid is the actual cost. The wages are all the same. My pay as editor of the paper is the same as that of a compositor or a carpenter. I receive my reward for extra effort in the knowledge that I am of that much more benefit to the community. I know that the proceeds will go to the building up of schools and other public improvements, and not to erect handsome residences for some millionaire. The colony has been in operation for four years. It was started at Greenburg, Ind., but moved to Ruskin a year later. It is a complete success."

The entire afternoon was devoted to organization and the appointment of committees. There are several hundred delegates in attendance, and the committee on credentials was unable to finish its work, so that no general business was transacted.

His Suicide Will Bring Ruin to Small Investors.

BIG FELLOWS WILL LOSE NOTHING.

His South African Boom Believed To Be Rotten—Slump in His Own Holding the Indirect Cause of His Death—He Seeks Solace in Liquor and the Result is Insanity and the Grave—His Unfinished $5,000,000 Palace.

New York, June 16.—A dispatch to The World from London says: Barney Barnato's suicide must cause widespread ruin among small investors. They had pinned their faith to him. The big speculators, having had inside knowledge of his serious condition, have either cleared out or been manipulating his stock with considerable profit. Barnato's tragic end has convinced the public here of the utter rottenness of the South African boom, which now easily takes rank as the biggest stock inflation scheme (not to say swindle) of the record reign. Barnato securities were quoted eighteen months ago at a capital value of £12,000,000 ($60,000,000), but in the last six months they had fallen to about £3,000,000 ($15,000,000), though they recently improved on better accounts from South Africa.

Barney Had Taken to Drink.

Mrs. Joel, Barnato's sister, told The World correspondent last night, before anything was known here of the death, that friends intended to land Barney Barnato at Funchal for a month's rest, as his health was not yet such as to render his return to London advisable. No secret is made of the fact that his breakdown was accelerated by heavy drinking, which began when the Kaffir slump started—even before his departure for South Africa, which was hurried and private. His mind showed signs of failing under strain eight months ago, on which account he was sent away from England. There had never been any sensible improvement in his condition.

Sought "Solace" Too Frequently.

His responsibilities weighed heavily on his mind and he sought "solace" too frequently. His naturally robust constitution had been undermined by his laborious, exciting life, and symptoms of softening of the brain manifested themselves. His family and partners became alarmed at the probable effect on his securities if this were known, as they were believed to be dependent solely on his personality. So they used every effort to get him off to the Cape and place him in seclusion for a time, in the hope that he would recover.

TRICKED INTO HIS LAST VOYAGE.

Put Aboard an Outgoing Steamer by a Ruse—His Lordly Palace.

He did not want to leave London, but by a ruse they induced him to go on board a steamer to see a nephew off to the cape, and he was kept talking in the cabin until the ship had parted with the tender. He was thus shipped away against his will. This explains a story—made much of at the time and now revived—that he went the last time to South Africa so unexpectedly that he had only the clothes he stood in. His condition became worse instead of better. He made a public exhibition of insanity at Johannesburg about six weeks ago, but it was attributed to temporary causes.

His friends knew better, however, and a good deal of selling his securities for a fall has been indulged in during the slump by well informed speculators. The collapse has not been as great as was looked for, because the Belts and other big South African houses have combined to keep up prices. At the same time it has been more than sufficient to prevent a newly attempted boom in these securities on which the stock exchange has been reckoning for a few weeks.

After Barnato began building a lordly palace for himself on aristocratic Park Lane his phenomenal good fortune deserted him. Barnato's house cost, it is estimated, £1,000,000 ($50,000,000). It is now approaching completion, and the interior decoration is partly done. The exterior is ornate in the extreme, Barnato having given unlimited discretion to the architect to embellish it with tracery, pilasters and statues.

London, June 16.—Today's papers publish columns of obituary, reminiscence, anecdote and history of the late Barney Barnato. It is said he thrice attempted to commit suicide before he left Cape Town. He was accompanied on the vessel by his wife and children. Barnato's real name was Barnett Isaacs.

Severe Pains in the Stomach -- Indigestion and Constipation -- Health and Strength Restored -- How it was Accomplished.

"I have been troubled very much with indigestion and constipation for the last ten years. Five years ago I was confined to my bed and suffered severe pains in my stomach. These spells would occur four or five times a day and were almost unendurable. I was weak and nervous and could not eat anything but the simplest food. I read about so many wonderful cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla that I determined to try it. The first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills were enough to convince me that I had at last found the right kind of medicines. I continued taking them until I was well. Last spring after my baby was born I did not regain my strength. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and they restored me to health." Mrs. LOUISA ENOMSON, Fosston, Minnesota.

TUNNEL INJUNCTION.

It Will Come Up Before the Circuit Court Tomorrow for Settlement.

A LIVELY TIME EXPECTED.

The Settlement Will Probably Have a Desirable Effect Upon the Affairs of the Company.

The injunction case against the Benton Harbor Electric railroad company will be the important matter to come before the circuit court tomorrow.

Several things will be decided by the court, the most important one being a decision as to who holds the controlling stock of the corporation and who has the say of the company.

For several months there has been a quarrel among the officers of the company, and the energy which ought to have been devoted to the construction of the road has been spent in the members of each faction trying to get the better of each other.

A thorough probing of the affairs of the company will be had and out of the investigation will be brought to light many facts which will largely explain the delay in the work on the tunnel road.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

William E. Phillips of Chicago Marries Miss Minnie F. Wood.

A very pretty wedding occurred last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Berkheiser, 265 Pavone street.

William E. Phillips, a Chicago manufacturer, and Minnie F. Wood of this city were united in marriage by the Rev. W. P. French of the First M. E. church. The ringservice was used and the ceremony was very impressive. The couple were attended by Herman R. Lull and Miss Cora Bush. Only a few immediate relatives were present.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Berkheiser was nicely decorated. Refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Phillips took the night boat for Chicago, where they will reside.

"INDEPENDENT COLLEGE."

The Graduates of the Institution Protected by Law.

MILWAUKEE, June 16—The health department of Milwaukee is to bring its influence to bear upon the state's attorney of Illinois to take action to close up an institution known as the "Independent Medical College," incorporated under the laws of Illinois. The health commissioner says that this college was incorporated in October, 1896, and that it has already turned between 200 and 300 of its diploma holders loose in the state of Wisconsin. The attorney general of Wisconsin has been asked to take steps to stop these "doctors" from practicing, but says, as the college is incorporated under the state of Illinois, he cannot under the laws of this state take any action.

The dignity of crimes.

If the old daily grind of physical pain has become tiresome, suppose you try leaving off coffee for ten days. Yes, of course its all nonsense, this cry about coffee hurting people, perfect child's talk, but then if we find we feel better by leaving it off a bit, we don't care much about the theory you know, just like to be well, that's all. When you feel like trying Postum Cereal Food Coffee, see that it is boiled 15 minutes. That makes it "wonderfully clever" and it has the food elements old mother nature made, from which the gray matter in the nerve cells are built. Plain old common sense.

That Was What the Rain Was Worth Today.

"The rain this morning was worth $10,000 to the strawberry crop of this vicinity," said Joseph Richards of Fairplain after the heavy shower this morning.

The rain fell in floods and lasted about 10 minutes. According to Mr. Richards' estimate the rain was worth $1,000 a minute.

If the morning rain was worth $10,000 the succeeding showers brought the value of today's rain up to a gigantic figure.

If the rain was worth $10,000 to the strawberry patches it was worth ten times $10,000 to suffering humanity.

KICKERS ARE PATRIOTS.

Governor Pingree Flatters Those Who Denounce Abuses.

"There has been some criticism, and justly, too," said Governor Pingree the other day, "on the recent Michigan legislature. But even the worst men in our state senate are mere children beside the Illinois fellows who passed the Allen street railway bill. The bill practically surrenders the city to Yerkes and his crowd for 50 years to come. Think of Governor Tanner signing such a bill: it is one of the most disgraceful acts in the history of our American government."

"Campaign speeches and Fourth of July orations will never replace the millions that corrupt legislatures take from the pockets of the people and hand over to the corporate highwaymen. Today we need something more than talk. We need plain, vigorous action. I know that men are called anarchists for pointing out these conditions, but let me say this to you, the best patriots are not the men who are blind to the abuses such as those practiced by the Illinois governor and legislature."

THE PEACH CROP.

The Oceana County Crop Proves to be all Right.

The Oceana County Courier, published at Hart, Mich., which is now the third largest county for fruit in the state, says in this week's edition:

"The Oceana peach crop is all right. That is the conclusion The Courier arrives at after many inquiries among fruit growers. While the crop will not be as large as last year's, it will still be a good crop. Some varieties and many of the older trees, will not bear at all; and some orchards that have been injudiciously trimmed will yield but light crops; and again, many trees are so laden with the young fruit they will have to be thinned. Upon the whole, therefore, the peach prospect is very satisfactory; not the less so because in Allegan, Kent and other peach growing counties south of us the yield will be so light as to cut but a small figure in estimating the present season's supply. The attention of fruit dealers and consumers is directed this way with unusual interest, and with no untoward weather between now and September, they will not be disappointed."

James Gibbs, the old fruit grower of Benona to wship, Oceana county, reports the peaches in the lake shore district of the county, which is nearer to Lake Michigan, as being all right. He says the trees are slightly affected with curl leaf, but that the leaves are coming forward so rapidly that this will do but little damage. His opinion seems to be based on the question of how the balance of the season will be in that country. There is also the fact that the curl leaf is largely dependent on the variety of the peach planted and also how the orchard faces, and how much it may be protected by woods.

Genial Fred Neilsen, the Pentwater banker, has been talking with the fruit growers as they come into Pentwater, and he writes as follows: "In regard to fruit here opinions differ, yet I should conclude the crop will be near fair and good on farms that are kept up and well located. Some farmers claim that the frost has done no harm, but the continual cold weather is hurting them badly. A small crop at a good price is more profitable than crops and prices of last season."

For Michigan Bell telephone company could afford to pay Roland Mor-rill's handsome salary as manager of that company.

Governor John T. Rich seems to be following in the steps of ex-postmaster General Wanamaker. Mr.
Rich has just given expression to the following sentiment: "There is a better feeling and I think times will mend in obedience to the law that long periods of depression must give way to an era of activity in all lines of business. It is about time for the tide to turn and the country may be on the eve of great prosperity. If there is a decided change within the next year or two, there can be no doubt that the silver agitation will spring up with redoubled vigor, and then there is no telling where we will land politically."

It pays for political papers to tell the truth even if it does hurt. For weeks the Grand Rapids Democrat has been declaring that the promised good times had not put in their appearance, while the Herald has been telling the signs of prosperity in the west and denouncing the Democrat as a "calamity howler" and an enemy to all business. A day or two ago the Herald urged its readers to sign a petition sent out by the American Protective Tariff league which reads as follows: "Industry is paralyzed; many of our workingmen are out of employment; and the success of the future is jeopardized by the importation of immense quantities of foreign goods."
The Democrat is now full of glee in calling the Herald a "calamity howler."

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Seventeen thousand acres of land will be reclaimed by the dredging of Maple river. If the Grand and Portage rivers likewise cleaned out the sanitary condition of Jackson county would be improved, and as many acres reclaimed in Jackson; the great Portage marsh would come to be some of the most valuable land in the section, besides thousands of idle men would get employment, and the taxable property increased.

Bargain in Land

Ten acres of good land as level as the house floor. Within five minutes walk of the electric street railway.
One-half set to all kinds of fruit. This property will next be required for city use and will make just 50 good-sized lots. At the low price of $200 each will equal $10,000 and if taken at once will take $5,000.

Look Before You Leap..

Is an old maxim and a good one. It will also hold good in buying Dry Goods. Look before you buy. Do not believe all you see in the papers about prices, clearing out sales, etc. We are all here to make money, at least a living, and a merchant is not going to sell you good, staple goods for less than first cost without getting a double profit on something else. Often we all have goods in our stores which we don't want and these goods we are willing to sell for less than first cost. This is the case with the clothing I have left. I will sell anything I have at 65 to 75 per cent on the dollar from first cost. I want the money and do not want the clothing. I can buy dry goods with money and sell them at a profit. If in need of clothing come and see me. I can please you.

Will leave Benton Harbor every day but Saturday at 9 p. m. Running direct from Benton Harbor to Chicago and having the best dock in Chicago for the handling of fruit we will give you the early markets. Having often had experience with late markets you can see that "An early market means top prices." As an evidence of good faith this company has assumed all shortages contracted last year by the "Minnie M." All having shortages were requested to call at once to have them adjusted.

The Chicago & Benton Harbor Transportation Co.

...in Lewiston.
...over the Toothpick Factory
...the city of Lewiston, Me.,
...on the station platform in an
...of indecision, for he was at a
...in which direction it would
...desirable to turn.
...can earn a dollar a day packing
...and that is better than
...in the cotton factories," he
...a little girl say to a companion,
...instantly the inquisitive man had
...an occupation.
...Packing toothpicks! Of all things,
...to see a toothpick factory, and
...fortunate I blundered on board
...train," he said to himself.
...with the air of one bent on ...urgent business, the inquisitive
...out in search of the toothpick
...factory.
...was not so imposing a structure as ...expected to see, but there was ...much bustle and semblance of in-
...everywhere around the establish-...that his disappointment as to the ...appearance of the building was ...forgotten.
...the structure, as if to pre-
...escape, were long rows of small
...and short rows of big logs, each
...exactly four feet in length, from
...of which the bark had been neatly ...entirely removed.
...its birch and maple, of course. We ...use any other kind," a small boy
...in answer to the inquisitive man's
...question. "I reckon you're a stranger
...these parts?"
...do not remember ever having been ...before."
...Then I guess you never have, be...cause you wouldn't be likely to forget a ...toothpick factory if you'd ever seen one.
...make 6,000,000 picks a day, and
...that's quite a pile. Anyhow, you'd think
...if you had to count 'em before get-
...ing a bite to eat. Want to see the ma...chine?"
...Can you show it to me?"
...That's what I'm here for."
...I should think that it would be ...profitable to work in the factory
...to idle your time away answering ...questions of ignorant people like
...yourself."
...That's where you make a big mis-
...take, mister. It's a mighty mean man
...who won't pay me for showing him
...around, and I pick up fair wages when
...there's a good crop of visitors. Come ...along, and I'll show you the toothpick
...machine. Here in this yard the stock is ...sawed into pieces 6 1/2 inches long,"
...and the small boy pointed to the in...crease in which a dozen or more cir...cled saws were buzzing and humming as ...they quickly divided the logs into the ...desired lengths.
...All pieces not clear and straight
...ended were thrown aside, and the re...maining was being packed into barrels
...so that wide crevices appeared be...tween the staves.
...Yes, that's all right," the small boy
...answered the inquisitive man's
...line of inquiry. "The stock is being ...sawed for the steaming room. When ...the barrels are full, they'll be taken ...down and left about three hours, when
...the blocks will be almost as soft as ...butter. Charging the wood with steam
...has got all the sap, and it is then ...ready for splitting. Come this way and ...you can see how that part of the work
...is done."
...The small boy led the visitor to a ...room in the main building, where was
...that is known as a "vener machine,"
...a piece of mechanism not unlike a lathe,
...which was rapidly converting the wood
...into pliable bands, hardly thicker than ...ordinary cardboard. The keen knives
...cut the 6 1/2 inch blocks so readily and ...smoothly that the general appearance of ...the work was much as if a roll of cream
...colored ribbon was being unwound and ...laid carelessly on the floor. Two ...boys were gathering up the damp ma...terial and winding it on huge spools.
...They're getting it ready for the big ...machine," the guide said as he chewed
...a fragment of the wooden ribbon. "Ev...ery one of the spools holds about 100
...feet of the veneer, and the rest of the ...work is done so quickly that you won't
...have much of a chance to see the oper...ation."
...The "big machine" was so intricate
...that the inquisitive man realized that ...he could not describe it intelligently,
...even though he should spend many ...hours studying its construction. He ...saw at one end of a long, narrow struc...ture, filled with wheels and knives,
...upon which the spools of veneer
...were hung and observed that men push...ed the ends of the wooden ribbon
...through narrow slots, where it was
...sawed by little steel fingers.
...He knew that somewhere inside the ...machine the material was being cut,
...trimmed and smoothed into flat picks
...with chisel-like ends, for directly oppo...site to where the veneer was being fed
...in the iron workman a long spout shot
...out toothpicks in bewildering numbers.
...It was a perfect cloud of tiny bits of ...wood, which would soon have buried
...the machine itself but for the fact that ...they were gathering the harvest into
...wooden boxes with wire bottoms capa...ble of holding a peck or more.
...That's all there is to the making,"
...the guide said as the inquisitive man
...looked at his eyes. "Of course they're soft
...when the veneer was, but these boys
...take them into the drying room,
...where they've had hot air forced
...through them by the steam blower for ...several hours, so that you can break
...them to a day and in that way
...they're made hard." —James Otis

...I found nearly all the great speeches made by both the men in that parliamentary duel, which lasted for so many years. My own observation and judgment gave the superiority to Mr. Gladstone all through, but I quite admit that Disraeli stood up well to his great opponent and that it was not always easy to award the prize of victory. The two men's voices were curiously unlike. Disraeli had a deep, low, powerful voice, heard everywhere throughout the house, but having little variety or music in it. Gladstone's voice was tuned to a higher note, was penetrating, resonant, liquid and full of an exquisite modulation and music which gave new shades of meaning to every emphasized word. The ways of the men were in almost every respect curiously unlike. Gladstone was always eager for conversation. He loved to talk to anybody about anything. Disraeli, even among his most intimate friends, was given to frequent fits of absolute and apparently gloomy silence.
Gladstone, after his earlier parliamentary days, became almost entirely indifferent to dress. Disraeli always turned out in the newest fashion, and down to his latest years went in the get up of a young man about town. Not less different were the characters and temperaments of the two men. Gladstone changed his political opinions many times during his long parliamentary career, but he changed his opinions only in deference to the force of a growing conviction and to the recognition of facts and conditions which he could no longer conscientiously dispute. Nobody probably ever knew what Mr. Disraeli's real opinions were upon any political question or whether he had any real opinions at all. Gladstone began as a Tory and gradually became changed into a Radical. Disraeli began as an extreme Radical under the patronage of Daniel O'Connell and changed into a Tory. But everybody knew that Gladstone was at first a sincere Tory and at last a sincere Radical. Nobody knew, or, indeed, cared, whether Disraeli ever was either a sincere Radical or a sincere Tory. —Justin McCarthy in

Except in So Far as it is Mixed Up

SENATE COMPLETES THE SCHEDULE

Pettigrew's Anti-Trust Proposal Tabled, Morgan and Pettus of Alabama Voting with the Republicans—Action of the Caucus on the Trust Question—Some Difficulties Stated—Hawaiian Annexation Expected To Be Pushed.

Washington, June 16.—The senate made a great stride forward yesterday by completing the consideration of the sugar schedule of the tariff bill except the provision relating to Hawaii, which went over. This schedule has been the storm-center of the entire bill, and with it disposed of there is a better prospect for speedy action on the bill as a whole. The first paragraph of the sugar schedule had served to bring out all the speeches and the test votes, and when this was passed early yesterday the other paragraphs of the schedule were agreed to without further opposition. As agreed to the schedule places on sugar not above No. 16 Dutch standard 1 cent per pound and 0.03 of a cent for every degree above 75, and on sugars above No. 16 Dutch standard 1.95 cents per pound, but on sugars testing below 77, degrees 1.10 cents per pound shall be deducted. The other provisions of the schedule relate to maple sugar, syrup, candy, etc. Only one ye and nay vote was taken on the schedule, on the amendment of Lindsay of Kentucky to make the rate 1.8 cents per pound, on sugar above No. 16 Dutch standard. The amendment was defeated—32 to 35.

The Battle Against the Trusts.

The Pettigrew amendment relating to trusts was then taken up and discussed at length. It developed considerable divergence of view on both sides of the chamber, the two Alabama senators, Morgan and Pettus, joining Hoar in opposition. Vest was for Pettigrew's amendment. He said he had not supposed there was any difference among parties on the propriety of this amendment. It was time to dispose of it. The sugar subject was a source of calumny, scandal and irritation, and there would be no peace until it was disposed of. Hoar said he specifically objected to that feature of the amendment which permitted three or more men to form a combination and thus force the article handled by them on the free list. Three men in Chicago might, he said, form a combination which would wreck 10,000 woolen industries of the entire country. Hoar declared that the amendment was an "abomination" through and through. There was never a scheme conceived in the wildest imagination couched in terms like this, placing the commerce of the whole country at the mercy of any three unprincipled adventurers.

Not Satisfied to Our Institutions.

Pettus of Alabama said he begged this Democratic associates to "go slow" on this kind of an amendment, tending to break down all classes of commerce and manufacture. It was patterned, he said, after the Canadian law, but was wholly unsuited to our institutions. He sympathized with the aim of the amendment, for we had become a government by the trusts and by money, and the government's heel should be put on the neck of this system. But in striking at trusts the mistake should not be made of destroying the entire manufacturing business of the country by throwing it into the courts. Allison appealed to Pettigrew to let the matter go over, but Pettigrew refused and finally Allison moved to table Pettigrew's amendment, and refused to yield for an amendment perfecting Pettigrew's scheme. The vote was taken on Allison's motion and resulted—yeas, 35; nays, 32.

Yea Vote on the Motion.

The yeas were as follows: Allison, Burrows, Cullom, Davis, Deboe, Elkins, Fairbanks, Foraker, Frye, Gear, Hanna, Hawley, Hoar, McBride, McMillan, Mason, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt of Connecticut, Platt of New York, Pritchard, Proctor, Quay, Sewell, Shoup, Spooner, Thurston, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore, Wilson—Republicans; Jones of Nevada (silver Populist), and Morgan and McNary, Democrats—35.

Some More Trust Annihilators.

Immediately after Pettigrew's anti-trust amendment was laid on the table he gave notice of another amendment of the same character in the shape of a proviso, as follows: "That none of the increased rates of duty provided for in this act shall apply to any articles or commodities the sale or manufacture of which is controlled by trusts in this country." Chilton of Texas also offered an anti-trust amendment as follows: "If any manufacturer, dealer, colner or other person knowing that any article or articles of like character to those upon which duties are levied under this act are manufactured or their sale controlled or their price affected by a trust or combination shall send or transmit any such articles from one state to another such manufacturer," etc., "upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than three years." Pasco gave notice of an amendment which differs from Senator Pettigrew's original amendment only in detail.

HAWAII AS GOOD AS ANNEXED.

Treaty Ready to Go to the Senate and May Go There Today.

Washington, June 16.—The suggested course of procedure when the Hawaiian annexation treaty is sent to the senate is that it should be made public in order that the proposition to restore the house provision in the tariff bill may be accomplished with the understanding that the treaty of annexation possibly will be in effect before a year's notice of abrogation could be given. One reason given for making the treaty public would be that it could be discussed in connection with the Hawaiian provision in the bill. Some question has arisen as to whether the senate alone was competent to act upon a treaty which acquired territory, and if the house would not be called upon to concur; but the precedents are that the treaty-making power—the president and the senate—can act, and that the only manner in which the house would be considered would be in case an appropriation was necessary to carry the treaty into effect.

and everything was in readiness when it was taken again to the White House for the president's final inspection and review. Secretary Sherman remained at the department later than his custom in order to receive the Hawaiians, but finally at 4 o'clock the attempt to secure the signature of the treaty yesterday was abandoned. This may prevent the submission of the treaty to the senate today as was the intention of the cabinet, but the delay in any case will not be material. It is understood that when this treaty is once before the senate it is the president's desire that it be acted upon as promptly as possible.

While the treaty is in the senate, either in the hands of the committee on foreign relations or on the calendar of executive business, it is the expectation that the people of the United States will have an opportunity through the press and other mediums to declare their sentiments upon the matter, and if, as is predicted, there is an overwhelming declaration for annexation, it is believed that the senate will be quick to respond to the demand. In this case treaty, it is believed, can be taken up and ratified in the course of one or two executive sessions while the regular tariff debates are in progress daily.

The manner in which the Hawaiian treaty will come before the house is in the paragraph which provides that the United States shall assume the present debt of Hawaii. This will not in any way affect the treaty or interfere in its adoption. Irrespective of and before any action will be submitted to the house will come the ratification of the treaty by the senate. If the treaty is ratified no action by the house can change the condition. The failure of the house to appropriate to pay the debt or the interest on it may become a future complication, but the ratification of the treaty by the senate will annex the islands. The treaty which made Alaska a part of this country carried with it an appropriation of several million dollars. There was a most bitter contention in the house about making the appropriation, but the senate had by treaty ratified the agreement. Of course, if congress by action of the house had refused to make the appropriation then Russia would have held possession of Alaska.

AS TO GOUGING THE TRUSTS.

Why the Republican Caucus Declined to Adopt Spooner's Idea.

Washington, June 16.—The Republican caucus Monday night determined not to incorporate in the tariff bill the amendment proposed by Spooner to postpone the time when certain features of the sugar schedule should go into effect until six months after the bill was passed, with the intention of compelling the sugar trust to dispose of the surplus sugar that has been imported pending the consideration of the tariff bill at a rate which would not allow it a great profit. The position taken by a large majority of the Republican senators was that it would be impracticable to have various portions of the bill go into effect at different times. If the action was taken on sugar it would have to be taken on wool and other items.

The argument was advanced that in changing tariffs no provision could be made against the advantage taken by buyers of foreign goods.

If a tariff was to be reduced importations would be held back, and if a tariff was to be raised importations would be rushed in. This was true of sugar and all other goods, and the caucus decided that there was no way of reaching the importers, and that no single article should be selected upon which to postpone the effect of the new tariff. The defeat of Spooner's proposition was not accomplished until there had been a sharp fight.

The western men were arrayed against the east and Spooner had several sharp tilts with senators representing states where there is a great deal of manufacturing. He said that the greatest opposition to the proposed amendment was because the eastern manufacturers feared that it might be extended to wool and that they would not be able to realize on the large importations of free wool, which had been made in anticipation of the tariff on wool. Spooner's motion was voted down, 18 to 12.

Postal Congress May Done.

Washington, June 16.—The Universal Postal congress, the fifth convention of the kind in the world, finished its labors yesterday after a closed session lasting several hours. The next of the congresses, the sixth biennial one, will be held at Rome, Italy, in February, 1903. The final session was devoted to the formal signing of the general treaty and of the detailed articles. Every delegate signed these two sets of papers, subject to the formal ratification of his government and, owing to the excessive amount of labor involved, signatures to other sets of documents were waived under a general authority for their execution.

"Special" Is on Trial Now.

Washington, June 16.—The trial of John S. Shriver, correspondent of the New York Mail and Express, the fourth of the recusant witnesses before the senate sugar investigating committee of 1894, began before Judge Bradley yesterday morning. Shriver telegraphed charges against the senators of a grave character and then refused to give his authority. The defense is that any communication to a newspaper man in the way of alleged news is privileged.

Calhoun at the National Capital.

Washington, June 16.—W. J. Calhoun, the special commissioner who went to Cuba in connection with the Ruiz case, returned to the city last night from his home in Illinois. Calhoun will have further consultation with the president, to whom he already has made a verbal report on the conditions existing in Cuba.

Sultan Will Accept Dr. Angell.

The Chicago Chronicle

IS FIRST OF ALL

A GREAT NEWSPAPER.

INCIDENTALLY it is an advocate of democracy, with no leaning toward populism or socialism. The triumph of the republican party in the recent presidential election, as a result of the disruption of the democrats, devolves upon the latter the duty of reconciliation and of the lines of their own, and not some other party's, faith. To promote reconciliation, to discontinue populism, and to resist the monopolistic tendencies of republicanism will be the political mission of THE CHRONICLE in the future as it has been in the past.

As a newspaper THE CHRONICLE will continue to be comprehensive and authoritative, sparing neither labor nor expense to make its reports of all noteworthy events of superior interest, and covering exhaustively the entirely field of news, discovery, invention, industry and progress.

For one sent a day every family within five hundred miles of Chicago may have on the day of publication a copy of a great daily newspaper, costing thousands of dollars to produce, at a miracle of cheapness and value combined.

The Chicago Chronicle
IS FIRST OF ALL
A GREAT NEWSPAPER.
INCIDENTALLY it is an advocate of democracy, with no leaning toward populism or socialism. The triumph of the republican party in the recent presidential election, as a result of the disruption of the democrats, devolves upon the latter the duty of reconciliation and of the lines of their own, and not some other party's, faith. To promote reconciliation, to discontinue populism, and to resist the monopolistic tendencies of republicanism will be the political mission of THE CHRONICLE in the future as it has been in the past.
As a newspaper THE CHRONICLE will continue to be comprehensive and authoritative, sparing neither labor nor expense to make its reports of all noteworthy events of superior interest, and covering exhaustively the entirely field of news, discovery, invention, industry and progress.
For one sent a day every family within five hundred miles of Chicago may have on the day of publication a copy of a great daily newspaper, costing thousands of dollars to produce, at a miracle of cheapness and value combined.

DID NOT ASSIGN JUDGE GARY.
...Justice Magruder Protested—Re-
...of the Chief Justice.
...Springfield, Ill., June 16.—An unusual
...incident occurred in the supreme court
...when appellate judges were assigned ...yesterday. Judge Gary, famous for ...having presided at the anarchist trials,
...was not assigned. Justice Magruder
...protested in the following strong
...language: "The distinguished services
...of Mr. Justice Gary for nearly thirty-...years deserved a more fitting ...recognition. Wherever modern civiliza-
...has extended its light and its bless-
...his name stands as the synonym
...for law and order. With his life in his ...hand he has stayed and suppressed the ...growth of lawlessness and disorder, and
...enter my solemn protest thus put upon
...his just and fearless judge."
...Chief Justice Phillips in reply said:
...With the fullest recognition of those
...services, the majority of this court re...turned to itself the right and discharged
...the duty of selecting other judges for
...that place equally learned, industrious
...and able, who can and will with equal
...firmness and as high sense of justice
...discharge these duties."
Boys Has 156 Majority.
...Springfield, Ill., June 16.—The official ...returns received by the secretary of ...State from the First supreme judicial
...court gives Judge Carroll C. Boggs,
...conservative, a majority of 156 votes over
...David Baker, for justice of the ...court.

...winner of last year is the favor...ite.

The man with a valise and an umbrella had bought one or two cheap volumes of fiction, when a more pretensious publication on a counter near the door caught his attention. It contained a number of elaborate pictures of mythological characters, and he was glancing rapidly through it when one of the pages attracted his especial interest. He lingered over it, turned several leaves and then went back. After he had started away and gone as far as the door the fascination again proved irresistible, and he was soon gazing thoughtfully at the same page.
"Can we do something more for you?" asked the clerk.
"You learn a great deal about what's in these books, don't you?" he asked.
"We naturally become familiar with the contents in the course of time," was the answer.
"Well, it will probably be exposing my ignorance for me to ask it, but I wish you would tell me what that is,"
and he turned the book around so that the salesman could see. "I never had much chance to study up on natural history," he added apologetically.
"That, sir, is a centaur," was the answer.
His curiosity was not yet satisfied.
He dropped his head over on his shoulder and looked at the picture with one eye.
"I suppose," he resumed, "that this thing wouldn't bother me so much if I hadn't recently gone on the road for a patent medicine firm. That has given me an interest I never had before. And you know whenever a man has just taken up a subject it's hard for him to get it off his mind. I don't believe that I ever will get over being puzzled about that centaur."
"In what way?"
"Supposing he got sick?"
"Well?"
"Whom would they send for, a regular physician or a veterinary surgeon?"
—Washington Star.
When Blondin Was Afraid.
One of Blondin's favorite jokes was to offer to carry some distinguished spectator across the rope with him on his back. Everybody naturally refused, and the great equilibrist, with a genial smile, would say, "I am sorry you are afraid I should drop you." But he was hoist once with his own petard.
He was exhibiting in Paris and was about to cross the Seine on his rope.
Cham, the great caricaturist, had come to make a sketch. Blondin, recognising him, at once invited him to cross with him.
"With pleasure," replied Cham, "but on one condition."
"And that is?"—queried Blondin.
"That I shall carry you on my back," answered Cham.
"Not if I know myself," answered Blondin.
"Ah," triumphantly exclaimed Cham, "this time, M. Blondin, it is you who are afraid!" — Washington Post.
Where Pope Lived.
Mr. Labouchere is gratified at being able to put an end to skepticism about his Twickenham house being built on the site of Pope's villa. In making repairs recently a stone was found, on which was carved the inscription: "On this spot stood until 1809 the house of Alexander Pope. The grotto that formed the basement still remains. 1848."
A Poor Wrapper.
"Yes, poor Mrs. Elderly is all wrapped up in that son of hers."
"And he isn't much of a wrapper, eh?"—Detroit News.
